

Please back off on attempts to change our No-call List. Since it has been implemented, I have experienced a significant decrease in annoying, unwanted calls. If I want to do business, I want to be the one to make the contact. I resent the invasion of my home by hucksters. In fact, if I had the power, I'd strengthen the law further to eliminate "beggars", too. Seems to me that an administration that uses "states' rights" when convenient should try to be more consistent. Let Wisconsin set the standards by which we wish to live. Thank you.
